

GEORGIA PEACH GREEN BUILDING RATING SYSTEM

CERTIFICATION PROGRAM GUIDELINES

I. History and Purpose

Section 1: History.

The Energy Efficiency and Sustainable Construction Act of 2008 (the "Act", codified at O.C.G.A. § 50-8-18) authorized the Georgia Department of Community Affairs to adopt policies and procedures for recommended energy and efficiency standards for all buildings owned or managed by the state. The Act also authorized the Georgia Department of Community Affairs to designate a rating system for high performance energy modeling and environmental efficiency in the construction of state buildings. In 2009, the Georgia Department of Community Affairs adopted Energy Efficiency and Sustainable Construction Standards for State Buildings, and designated the rating system as the Georgia Peach Green Building Rating System (the "Georgia Peach Program").

Section 2: Purpose.

The purpose of the Georgia Peach Program is to rate and recognize buildings owned or managed by the state that optimize energy performance, increase the demand for materials and furnishings produced in Georgia, improve the environmental quality in this state, conserve energy, protect the state's natural resources, and reduce the burden on the state's water supply. In furtherance of this purpose, the Georgia Peach Program will:

- a. Receive and review nominations for the award of certification and suitable award for project nominations submitted by a state agency;
- b. Recognize state-funded facilities that achieve one of the Peach rating levels in the Georgia Peach Program by publicizing the project at Georgia Association of State Facilities Association (GASFA) conferences and providing a formal letter of certification and award; and
- c. Promote incentives for the effective and efficient planning, development, design, construction, operation, and maintenance of sustainable State of Georgia facilities;
- d. Provide and promote inter-governmental agency and public-private cooperation on issues of interest and benefit to the development of higher performance energy modeling and environmental efficiency in state facility design and construction.
